Twelve Precincts In Wheeling

Representatives Of Both Parties Divide Township In Accordance With New Law.

The township of Wheeling will hereafter be comprised of twelve precincts in order to meet the requirements of the new permanent registration law. The division of the township in the precincts was a job for A. F. Volz, republican committeeman and Homer J. Byrd, democratic committeeman. Three hours were spent Sunday in determining the precinct lines, which are approximately as follows:

Pre. 1—All of the village of Wheeling, Ill.

Pre. 2—West line of section line west to Wilke road, comprising Buffalo Grove, Hillside and all farm territory north of Arlington Heights.

Seven Precincts in Arlington

Pre. 3—North of R. R. in Village of Arlington Heights, west of the center line of Highland avenue.

Pre. 4—South of R. R. from west line of Arlington Heights corporate limits to center line of Chestnut street.

Pre. 5—South of R. R. from center line of Chestnut to center line of Dunton.

Pre. 6—South of R. R. from center line of Dunton to East limits of village and including the Hildebrand farm.

Pre. 7—North of R. R. from center line of Highland to center line of Evergreen.

Pre. 8—North of R. R. from center line of Evergreen to center line of Belmont.

Pre. 9—North of R. R. from center line of Belmont to east line of corporate limits.

Pre. 10—Village of Mt. Prospect, north of Center road.

Pre. 11—Farm territory north and east of the village of Wheeling, and south of the village to the center line of McDonald road; also west of the village to the section line.

Pre. 12—South of McDonald road, north of Mt. Prospect and east to township line, including Feehanville.

The law prohibits more than 600 votes in a precinct and there is an average of 400 votes in the twelve precincts outlined above, with two exceptions, which are smaller.

New Precinct in Elk Grove

To meet the new requirements of separating farm territory from incorporated lands, there will be one new election precinct in Elk Grove comprising that territory south of Mt. Prospect that formerly voted within the village. This new district will be known as Precinct 13, the polling place of which will be the public school near Linneman road and Route 58. That part of the former precinct 1, which lies in the vicinity of Higgins and Elmhurst roads, has been attached to the new precinct No. 3.

No Change in Schaumburg

No change has been made in Schaumburg township as there is no incorporated town and there are less than 900 votes within the town.

Two New Precincts in Palatine

In order to separate the farm and village districts in Palatine, two new precincts have been established in the town of Palatine. The new precincts are the rural territory north of the village, which will vote at the Gibbs farm home and that rural territory south of the village, which will vote at the farm home of Fred Glaser. Otherwise, there are no changes.

The appointment of registrars and deputies has been divided between the Republicans and Democrats by giving to the Republicans the registrar and one deputy of odd numbered precincts and to the democrats the appointments for the even numbered precincts. The third member in each case will be of the opposite party.

Village Looks For Economical Way To Cut Weeds In Subdivisions

With the approval of bills by the Arlington Heights board, Monday night, that body discovered that the cutting of weeds in the subdivisions is going to be rather an expensive proposition this year. The weed growth, especially that of thistles, has been abundant and explains the inability of the street department to give away the grass for the cutting.

The International Harvester Co. has perfected a weed cutting tractor that travels about 15 miles an hour, which was demonstrated in Searsdale last week. An effort will be made to lease such a machine for the present season.

Hartmann's Clean-Up Shoe Sale Announced

Big savings is the keynote of Hartmann's storewide clearance sale of summer footwear which starts this week and will continue until all summer merchandise is disposed of. Every shoe bought means a big saving. Prices have been drastically reduced to make room for the new fall and winter stock which is on the way.

CARNIVAL DRAWS BIG CROWDS

The annual carnival of Arlington Heights Post of the American Legion is in progress this week and is drawing good crowds. The boys have almost every game imaginable and visitors will not be at a loss to find ways to spend their money.

The carnival culminates Saturday night with the awarding of a Studebaker car and special prizes to the Carnival queens.

Toman Orders Slot Machines Out

Somehow or other Sheriff John Toman of Cook county has heard rumors that there are slot machines in operation in Cook county.

The Sheriff immediately got busy and in a rip snorter of a letter, a copy of which is reproduced here, he told the presidents and police chiefs of Cook county towns that it was up to them to clean up.

Also orders are said to have been given to the highway police to check up on the situation in the county territory outside of the towns.

So once more the lid is on or supposed to be on; for how long, no one knows.

Is it permanent, this new lid? Or is it just another "heat" wave?

Mayor Godknecht and Chief of Police Schmidt of Palatine immediately ordered out all pin games and gambling machines in Palatine and ordered them to stay out.

Toman's Letter

Dear Sir:

It probably is unnecessary for me to indicate to you that the operation of slot machines in Illinois is illegal and that as Sheriff of this county, I am obliged to enforce the law prohibiting the operations of these machines.

Although I have endeavored to enforce this law, reports have come to me that in certain places in this county, machines are still in use. I have no course to follow, other than to make arrests of persons who have control of these machines and those in whose possession they are found. I am also obliged to confiscate such devices.

Under your oath of office, you too are obliged to see to the enforcement of this law, and I am writing to you for the purpose of obtaining your wholehearted cooperation so that there will be no further violations.

It has always been my purpose to co-operate with other law enforcing officials therefore, I shall report to the States Attorney's office all arrests made and all machines confiscated in the various municipalities and territories within the county.

In the event of a second arrest and conviction for violation of this law, I shall be obliged to recommend revocation of licenses to the Municipal Officials within the Incorporated Municipalities and the County Board outside of Municipalities.

This information is being forwarded to you for immediate and necessary action in compliance with the law.

Yours very truly,
SHERIFF COOK COUNTY
JOHN TOMAN

George Olcese Gets 60 Days For Writ Fraud

George B. Olcese, former deputy sheriff of Arlington Heights, today was sentenced by Judge Harry M. Fisher to sixty days for contempt of court.

In a bill filed by the Chicago Bar Association through Charles Leviton, it was pointed out that Olcese was to have served a garnishee proceedings summons on John H. Longley on January 19 of this year, against the latter's $200 account in the First National Bank of Des Moines.

Asking $5, Olcese was said to have warned Longley and advised him to withdraw the money. Mrs. Longley withdrew the amount, thereby frustrating the court order.

Arlington Winner In All-Star Game 7-6

After spotting the DuPage County All-Stars five runs on three hits and six errors, in the first three innings, Arlington's All-Stars suddenly came to life behind Art Lueren's inspiring relief pitching to finally win 7-6 in nine innings, the last two of which were played in semi-darkness.

Ray Hayes started on the mound for the A's, but his mates, All-stars though they were, fielded and threw the ball around like school kids.

A crowd of over a thousand, the largest local softball gathering in history, was on hand from start to finish, to witness the thrilling and colorful exhibition. The two teams have been rematched for next Wednesday night, this game also to be played at the new Arlington park.

Arlington's battery of Art Lueren and battling "Red" Weisgerber stole the whole show, starring not only at their respective positions, but either scoring or driving in six of the seven runs for the victors. Art yielded but four hits to the DuPage sluggers and whiffed eight in the six innings he toiled on the hill.

When Board Adjournment Is Real News

Arlington Heights Aldermen Go Home Early For One Night.

It was a quiet meeting Monday night for the Arlington Heights village board—after the fire truck salesmen had been sent home near ten o'clock, a hour later, when by chance there was a sudden lull in the regular proceedings, some aldermen was quick to move an adjournment which allowed the janitor to lock the doors a good half hour earlier than usual.

The board is meeting an average of four to six times a month and upon the majority of the nights, the 12 o'clock curfew has sounded before they reach their homes. We understand the wives of the board members are saying things, ye reporter is losing sleep and even the aldermen, whose pay of around $2.00 an hour has dropped to about the wage of a WPA workman, are getting fed up with too much village business these days.

Which brings us all around to the dream of a golden day when Arlington Heights will have a full time business manager to do all the worrying, arguing, etc., and an alderman can spend his evenings with his family.

But in the meantime, the board listens to reports upon the painting of hydrants, repairing of leaks, the placing of a bit of stone here and there, the number of kilocycles of electricity needed to pump the sewage each day through the treatment works.

The present practice of many property owners placing cinders and ashes in their driveways is expensive to the operation of the treatment works, when a heavy rainfall carries the cinders and other debris down the catchbasins, through the sewers to the plant. Perhaps some of these property owners who use a wheelbarrow to wheel back their driveways in place from the streets, are not aware that at the same time Geo. Harris at the plant is also shoveling accumulations of grit from those same driveways.

When the suggestion was made that an ordinance be passed prohibiting the use of light material on driveways, some of the aldermen took the position that it would be difficult to watch the driveways and it was better to grin and bear it than to try to check up on the property owners.

A solution would be the construction of a special grit chamber at the plant, the suggestion of Engineer Harris.

The police department reported the receipt of an $80 bond from a driver for damage to an ornamental light and their expectation of the receipt of $95 for destruction last year of a similar light. Fine receipts for the two weeks were $31 with several cases pending.

Bills and payroll amounting to $2,975 were approved for payment. A refund for beer license was authorized to the fire department and the relief group.

Upon inquiry as to the legality of such action, attorney Thal advised the board that the beverage ordinance did not provide for a refund of license paid when holder of same quits business.

The treasurer's office was authorized to purchase of Herman McElhose filing equipment to the amount of $64.50.

A resolution was passed authorizing the reissuing of certain warrants in special No. 121, making them payable out of the first and subsequent installments. There is no money to pay such warrants out of the first installment, while there exists surpluses in the subsequent installments.

The street department was authorized to purchase ten barrels of tar to repair streets and to place gravel on Douglas street between Euclid and Hawthorn.

Before anybody could make any further suggestions, the motion to adjourn was carried.

Are All Fire Truck Salesmen Just Liars?

If members of the Arlington Heights village board became dizzy Monday night after their session with the high pressure fire truck salesmen, they were only human.

It all started when one of the salesmen began telling shop secrets. The aldermen were quick to question him and learned to their surprise that nearly all of the other salesmen (in the estimation of No. 1) were liars.

As the succeeding salesmen appeared singly before the board, the members of the latter took pains to question each upon the points at issue and when they were through, they did not know which of the salesmen were telling the truth.

Anyway the board does not intend to be gullible to unsupported claims and what action they will take next Monday evening when final decision will be made, can not be guessed at except:

1st. Alderman Krause has served notice that he will vote for no contract that exceeds the appropriation of $8,000.

2nd. No fire truck will be bought that is too long to get into the engine house.

In the estimation of some of the salesmen, a cab job is an experiment that entails the sacrifice of truck stability.

Another speaks well of a patented arrangement where the hose is housed in a drawer beneath the ladders, thereby eliminating the washing entire truck every time the hose is used.

Another says that such an arrangement is crazy.

They all invited members of the board to visit neighboring towns which own trucks of their manufacture.

The bids submitted by the individual various manufacturers are:

American LaFrance $ 9,061.50
With cab, additional $600.

Officials of Sewer Contracting Firm Visit Arlington Heights

Messrs. White and Isenberg, of New York, were in Arlington Heights this week, looking over the special assessment situation as it affects their interests as holders of the bonds issued in payment for the construction of the big sewer.

It is a great disappointment to the contractors that there are some property owners who are allowing their special assessment taxes to go by default. "The interest and penalties," stated Mr. White, "are piling up and the interest of the property owners are becoming less and less. In such instances, the general taxes are probably also in default. With forfeiture of the property inevitable, the owner is also probably neglecting to make needed repairs."

"Thus because the property owner has neglected to pay his big sewer assessment, the taxing bodies are not receiving their usual taxes, the value of the property is decreasing and becomes a detriment to the community itself. In the meantime, the property owner is probably using all the conveniences that the special assessments have made possible, is sending children to schools and availing himself of the same privileges as the property owner who pays all of his taxes."

With such a situation, Mr. White believes that the only solution and remedy for the tax paying public is the strengthening of the tax default laws of Illinois, which would permit the definite sale of such property for the defaults incurred.

"At present," continued Mr. White, "those who do pay their taxes are being penalized. We need the creation of a big 'Pay Your Tax Movement.'"

Three In a Row At Mt. Prospect

No Accident For Months; Then Three In 24 Hours

After going through a period of months with no accidents worthy of mention Mt. Prospect is suddenly the scene of three automobile accidents in 24 hours.

The first accident occurred just after 12 o'clock noon on Friday, July 16, when Geo. Ambler and family of St. Paul, Minn., in a Chevrolet sedan failed to stop for the red light at the intersection of Northwest Highway and Main street. Ambler was driving north on Main street or Elmhurst road and struck the car of Otto Milburn of Milburn Bros., who was driving southeast on the highway.

While considerable damage was done to the cars, no injuries were suffered by the occupants of either car.

The second accident occurred on the same day at 10:30 p. m. at the same intersection. Herb Hammerl of Arlington Heights, who had his wife and son in the car, had stopped for the red light at the corner of Northwest Highway and Main street. James Branch, a race horse man from Texas and a companion, James Brandon also of Texas, failed to see the red light and the stalled traffic and piled his car into the rear end of the Hammerl car.

While the Hammerl's were not injured, James Branch received cuts about the face and head and Brandon, who was asleep at the time of the impact, received cuts and a contusion of the head. The injured parties received first aid treatment at the hospital.

The third and worst accident of the three occurred Saturday morning about 10:30, when the car of Howard Wenzel of Arlington Heights, was struck and turned over by the car of Paul Fee of Chicago.

This accident occurred at the corner of Evergreen and Hi Lusi avenues. Wenzel was driving south on Hi Lusi avenue when he was hit by Fee, who was driving west in Evergreen. Lois Clark, 21, occupant of the Wenzel car apparently became pinned under the Wenzel car when it overturned and received a severe cut on her left leg and a slight concussion of the brain. She is still under observation of the Mt. Prospect General Hospital.

Despite the heavy traffic through our Village during the summer months, accidents have been surprisingly few, which is probably due in no small part to the efficient and alert patrolling of our police department.

The Emerald Shop Reduce Prices On Summer Goods

Although summer is only half over with lots of warm weather ahead, the Emerald Shop midsummer sale of all summer merchandise begins this week. Goods now on shelves are being offered at lower prices to make way for a brand new fall and winter stock.

Lindheimer Extends Tax Dead Line

County treasurer, Horace G. Lindheimer is giving the tax payers of the country towns the greatest "break" they have had in years in giving them additional time to make their payments to the town collectors.

Usually the local collectors are required to return their books weeks in advance of the penalty date and the county collector sends out another set of bills to all who have not paid the town collectors.

But this year Mr. Lindheimer is leaving the tax books in the hands of the town collectors right up to the last minute.

The township collectors are giving notice this week that they will keep their offices open until next Thursday, after which they will balance their books and make their return to the County treasurer by July 31. Penalty date on the first installment is August 1.

There are more items on the country town books than there are on the Chicago books and Mr. Lindheimer realizes that the work which the town collectors do, takes that much work away from the down town office which right at this time, is swamped by the Chicago taxpayers.

In cooperating with the town collectors in this fine manner, Mr. Lindheimer is giving both the collectors and the taxpayers fine consideration.

Any taxpayers who have not yet made their payments and who can do so before the penalty date are urged to see their town collectors by next Thursday, after which time the collectors of this territory will close their books and make their returns to the county treasurer.

Red Wings Defeat Sycamore

Largest Crowd of Season Sees Schaefer Pitch 12 to 1 Victory.

The Arlington Red Wings upset the widely heralded Sycamore nine decidedly by a score of 12 to 1. The largest crowd of the season watched the game that has been won by narrow margins in past years. Sycamore has always been the toughest team for Arlington to beat.

Both pitchers started out in big league style bearing down with the first pitch. Schaefer tossed his best game of the season, having perfect control. His fast ball had the Sycamore bane swinging wildly. He allowed but five hits, not more than one in any one inning until the ninth when he eased up, having an eleven run lead.

Lindquist, Sycamore's star pitcher, showed at the start that he had plenty of stuff but early found difficulty in finding the plate. His wildness, with solid hits in the pinches, allowed the Red Wings to pile up an insurmountable score. He gave up 13 hits.

With the exception of one error which helped in putting the only Sycamore run across, the Red Wing infield performed brilliantly turning in several beautiful plays. With Schaefer in control of the situation, the outfielders had little to do but take their turn at bat.

F. Brodman and H. Firmbach led the Red Wings with the stick, getting three hits apiece. R. Bolte, besides catching a great game, drove in the first run with a single, and in the sixth smashed out a long triple which accounted for two more runs. Tippy Hattendorf, Red Wing second sacker, had a busy day in the infield, making four put outs and four assists.

Kendall, Sycamore third baseman, scored their only run and collected two of his team's five hits. The Red Wings will meet the Highwood nine this Sunday at 3 p. m.

Mrs. J. D. Flentie, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Wilke and daughter, are spending the week at the Flentie cottage at Potter's Lake.

Arlington Host To Glen Ellyn Officials Upon Inspection Tour

A tour of Arlington Heights was taken Tuesday by the official family of Glen Ellyn, who were upon an inspection tour, whose purpose it was to learn how Arlington Heights was able to operate its village government upon so small a budget and to get the low down upon the lighting and power contract between Arlington and the Public Service Co.

Glen Ellyn is about to enter into a new contract for electricity and wants every possible break in the price that is possible to obtain. They visited the treatment plant, village hall, met the local official family and reciprocated with a lot of compliments about things in general at the home of Arlington Park. "The only thing we did not get," stated the Glen Ellyn mayor, "was a real tip upon the races."

Farmers Are Asking $2.36 Milk Price

If the bid for an increase in the fluid milk price begun last week by Pure Milk Association leaders, is successful, 14,500 dairy farmers in the Chicago milk shed, including scores of local dairymen, will be happy. Negotiations were opened last Thursday in Chicago by the PMA advisory committee, whose members are urging distributors to give approval. The present base price is $1.90 per 100 pounds. The new price asked is $2.36. This represents an increase of about a cent per quart.

In making their demands for a higher price, producers noted that a steady advance has been recorded in the butter, cheese, and condenser markets. They also said that the higher cost of feed and farm labor and thin pastures force them to feed high price grains to dairy cattle.

Many farmers present at the Thursday session voiced the difficulty they are having in securing competent farm labor and where they are able to do so they claim the increase in wages in many instances amounts to 50 percent over 1936, thus making it impossible for them to produce milk except at a loss.

General Manager Case, commenting on the situation, said: "If something is not done at once to substantially remedy the price situation in the Chicago market, the producers cannot continue to produce milk at the price they are receiving now."

Arlington All-Stars Drop Practice Tilt To Des Plaines, 6-3

The Arlington Heights Softball League All-Stars, playing a tune-up game for the coming Double-A Arlington All-Star game, boxed in some erratic playing together with some fielding gems, to drop a 6-3 decision to the fast Johnson team of Des Plaines Wednesday night, July 14, on the local park diamond. Two errors by Joe Urie of the A's and a "brainstorm" play by T. Kouzmanoff, Arlington's starting short stop, paved the way to three unearned Des Plaines runs. Some slow outfielding also, played havoc with Art Luerssen, Rose Le's contribution to the All-Star aggregation, who, in spite of the shaky support, pitched commendable ball for the locals in holding the visitors to seven blows.

None of the Arlington sluggers were able to garner more than one hit apiece off Hilde. Des Plaines' crafter twirler.

Mary Pingel, playing short stop for the Heights, turned in a nice defensive exhibition in addition to getting one out of two at the plate. Des Plaines' 003 020 010—6 7 2 Arlington .000 030 000—3 7 2 Batteries, (D.P.)—Hilde and Weisgerber.

Des Plaines Boy
 Wins $100 For Model Car Design

Detroit, Mich., July 20—M. York Houser, 16-year-old boy of Des Plaines, Ill., today was declared winner of $100 and first place honors in the junior division of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car design competition in Illinois.

Seventy state and two regional winners among boys from Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, were announced at the auditorium of the General Motors building, where the tiny autos have been judged and on exhibition during the past ten days. Cash awards in this region amounted to $2,250. The only limitations imposed in the General Motors-sponsored competition were practical in nature. Models had to be constructed to a scale of one inch to one foot and conform to a designated length, height and width, so that an actual car built to the same specifications would have sufficient leg room, head room and breadth to accommodate five or six persons comfortably.

Through the Guild program, it is the hope of General Motors to discover boys specially gifted for automobile designing and to take a hand in their training, at the same time awakening a general interest in the broad field of industrial design among the youths of the country.

Are Not Too Old To Become Swim Experts

Here is an uncensored story that has been handed in for publication. The editor does not know what it is all about, but here it is.

Editor Herald—I was up to the Barrington swimming pool the other evening and saw two prominent Arlington Heights citizens all decked out in swimming suits. I had to hastily put on my colored glasses, at the unusual sight of the pair—the one could be a little thinner without blowing away and the other could be a little heavier without overflowing the tank. I took the liberty of interviewing them and learned that in spite of their years, they are training for the opening of the swimming pool in Arlington Heights some time in the future, that they olive the water even if they are afraid of the high dive and besides it was Saturday night.

Editor's Note—We first left out the names of the two prominent citizens, but at the last moment decided to go all the way, so here they are—Chas. S. Paddock and Otto Bolte.

Miss Lorraine Benic was maid of honor and wore a gown of blue chiffon with pink accessories and carried dark red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the school hall, where Louis Brodman served his brother as best man while the ushers were Martin Brodman of Chicago, R. Bolte and Walter Schroeder.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Am I asking a favor when I seek a Bank loan?"

A LOAN is a business transaction. It is no more of a favor for a bank to lend you money than it is for a property-owner to rent you a house. Both make a fair profit when the business is on a sound basis.

This bank welcomes loan applications—for this is one of the ways we make money. You do not have to say "please" or "thank you" when you borrow here. Your application is judged strictly on its merits like any other business matter. Court Fight Unnecessary Says Church

With No National Emergency, There Is No Reason For Insistence of Pres. Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., July 17—On the lawn of the Folger Shakespearean Library is a small statue of Puck. With uplifted hands and a broad smile, in an expression of cynicism, he faces the United States Capitol. On the base of the statue a famous line from "Midsummer Night's Dream" is inscribed: "Lord, what fools these mortals be."

At that statue the Administration leaders could well pause for thought. The Senate is fighting a wholly unnecessary and foolhardy battle over the Court bill. It is being fought in the sultry heat of a Washington summer. It is being fought at the risk of lives of weary Senators, torn between personal conviction and political expediency. It is being fought with bitterness at the expense of a united Democratic Party.

But why? Why has the Administration been insisting that this issue be fought to a showdown at such an expense when there are many other matters to which Congress should give attention? If there must be a showdown, as the President insists, why cannot it wait until Congress meets next January and members have had the opportunity to discuss the issue with their constituents at home? Those are unanswered questions in the mind of every citizen.

No national emergency exists. A Conservative has resigned from the Supreme Court bench. To that vacancy the President is privileged to make an appointment. As evidenced by the recent decisions, the Liberals already have a majority on the bench. When the new appointment is made to the existing vacancy the President can expect the Court to uphold any reasonable law by a vote of 6 to 3.

That Court will not, to be sure, although composed of a liberal majority, sustain anything and everything the Administration may want. It will not accept the revolutionary theories as set forth by Secretary Henry A. Wallace in his book, "Whose Constitution?" It will not lift the "general welfare clause" out of its context and interpret it as a broad grant of power to Congress completely independent of the power to tax and spend, as so many New Dealers believe should be done. It will not ignore the people's limitations on their government and stretch clauses of the Constitution so as to find that Congress can do anything and everything it wishes. It will not close its eyes to the rights of the States, minorities and individual citizens.

Is that the President's real objection to the Supreme Court as now constituted. Is that the reason why the President is not satisfied with the fact that there is a clear majority of liberals now on the bench? Is that the reason for the insistence that the Court bill be passed regardless of the costs?

If it is, the American people will not stand for it. And is that the reason for the foolhardy insistence that there be a showdown at the present session rather than next? Is there a fear that personal contacts with the constituents between sessions will increase the opposition from Members of Congress?

In his historic battle over a principle of government the beloved Majority Leader of the Senate, Joseph T. Robinson, gave his life. He died, as the President phrased it,

"with face to the battle." But, as his biographers will ultimately discover, he died fighting for something in which he did not personally believe. He acted out of a deep sense of duty as the President's spokesman in the Senate. The tragic passing of this weary, heart-sick man brought a state of confusion in Congress and a temporary truce.

He had been fighting a losing battle. Not many hours before his death Congressman Hutton W. Summers, chairman of the House committee on Judiciary, took the floor to state that his committee would never report the Court bill. Believing that Summers' dramatic speech would definitely decide the issue for the opposition. Members of Congress who had been non-committal in an uncertainty as to where they should stand, joined with us who have been opposing the proposal for many months. A general movement to shelve the bill developed.

In spite of these developments, the President insists that the fight continue. He insists that the bill must pass at this session.

This is the greatest issue the nation has faced since the Civil War. It represents a fight between two philosophies of government. The pressure of public opinion may determine the result, and the next few days will be crucial days for this Republic. It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to express himself to his respective representatives in the House and Senate.

Woman Leaves Farm Where She Went As a Bride 48 Years Ago

When Mrs. Regina Theis of Schaumburg, moves to Itasca this month, she will be leaving the farm where her husband took her when she was a bride 48 years ago. Not only was the home newly built at the time, but the young husband, looking to the future, set out a grove of ash trees which today give the home as pretty a setting as any in the township. It was partly due to these trees that the buyer of the farm was attracted to the place. Mr. Theis passed away 29 years ago.

The auction held Monday was largely attended and brought good prices. Included in the sale were the growing crops, as possession of the place had to be given August 1.

Prominent Wheeling Resident Dies

George J. Proesel, prominent resident of Wheeling, died Monday at the age of 65 years. Funeral services were held Thursday, 9 a. m. at the residence, Milwaukee avenue, to St. Mary church, Buffalo Grove, with interment at All Saints' cemetery.

The deceased was born August 17, 1871, of Mr. and Mrs. John Proesel, Niles Center. His father was an immigrant from Germany and one of the early settlers in Lincolnwood. He was married to Miss Lena Olk in 1895, and they have been residing in Wheeling the last twenty years. He is survived by his wife, two children, Peter and Marie Pykett, and two grandchildren.

Nature Has Rebelled

Wm. Sweitzer, of Springfield, Colorado, who was called to Palatine last week by the death of his son, brought with him a tale of rebellion on the part of Nature. Mr. Sweitzer resides in the dust bowl where farmers have lost everything and are being moved out of the country by the government. "Nearly every person is on relief," says Sweitzer, "and there are practically no taxes to run local government."

This all came about when enthusiastic groups received the bright idea of transforming grazing land into cultivated lands. With the plowing up of the land, dust took the place of the former fertile soil.

The salvation is the possible transfer of the land back into grazing. As a first step the cultivation of weeds is being tried. Something has to be tried to bind the soil together. At present rainfall means nothing, as without vegetation, it does not soak into the ground.

Ben-Edge Nine Drubs 1936 Champs

N. Knox Holds River Grove To Eight Hits.

The fast-coming Bensenville-Edgewood nine, playing a championship brand of baseball behind Norm' Knoxe's eight-hit pitching, rose to the heights last Sunday afternoon to thoroughly drub River Grove, 1936 Tri-County champs, 9-3, on the latter's grounds.

Six markers on six solid B-E. blows, together with four errors in the 4th inning, had the home fans wondering whether their 1936 heroes would ever retire the side. Knoxe, River Grove's fast-slip, ping fire-baller, apparently couldn't read the hand-writing on the wall, because he refused to leave the mound in favor of a relief hurler. The B-E's wound up the day's offense with three more tallies in the 8th as extra insurance.

In hurling the route, "Shorty" Knox gave up eight hits, seven bases on balls and struck out five. Good fielding by his mates and some timely strike-outs helped to do away with some of the runners that had reached base on balls.

Cotton Bailey and Charley Earhart, with three out of five each, led the victor's sluggers. Robertson and Wischnia banged out two apiece for the losers.

Bens.-Edg. 9-3; River Grove, 0-9. River G. 0-9; Bens.-Edg. 9-3.

Batteries—N. Knox and N. Bailey; I. Kossack and De Coste.

Gaare's Studebakers bunched seven hits for seven runs for a 7-1 win over Hartmann's Shoe Store last Thursday night behind Ray Hayes' beautiful three-hit pitching performance to finish in a two-way tie for second place. The Gaare-Hartmann game wound up first-round play for the Arlington league.

In addition to collecting three singles, the Hartmanns were able to drive out only four flies into the outfield off Hayes' tricky pitching.

Paul Tossman's long left field home run featured the evening's hitting. Mel Loske's two hits out of three trips to the plate made him the only batter of the game able to get more than one hit.

7 p. m. . . . last Wednesday night . . . press time of this edition . . . the Arlington Heights Softball League's All-Stars . . . were trotting out to their positions . . . tuned up and rarin' to go . . . so as to speak . . . At to defend their league's laurels against the pick of the Northern Du Page County Association . . . Ray Weise . . . pilot of the undefeated Roselle team . . . and Young Albie Brodnan of the Gaare Studebakers . . . were their manager's unanimous choices to lead the all-stars . . . 7-5 on the Arlington All-Stars was the latest quotation . . . based on Arlington's .398 batting average as against the Du Page's .381.

Roselle and Churchville . . . with identical second-half records . . . meet at Churchville Monday night to decide first place occupancy.

The Arlington Red Wings avenged a pair of last year's beatings last Sunday in trouncing the strong Anaconda team of Sycamore, Ill., 11-1 . . . Highwood, Ill., is the next Wing opponent.

This department's attention was called to an incident that took place Sunday in the Bensenville-Edgewood-River Grove baseball game . . . The play as we understood it . . . A River Grove runner had slid into third base and put out on a close but well-called play by the umpire . . . whereupon . . . home players and a few fans swarmed around poor Mr. Umpire . . . the River Grove . . . ever-ready to kill . . . pitcher . . . Kossack . . . jumped on the arbiter from the rear and brought him to the ground . . . No physical damage done . . . but the usual word wrangling followed . . . after a few thousand words . . . the River Grove team succeeded in getting Mr. Umpire . . . who in this case . . . happened to be an experienced and capable official . . . to reverse his decision, on the grounds that he was in no position to call the play . . . The reversal . . . however . . . failed to meet with the approval of the impartial and baseball-minded section of River Grove fans and turned to jeer instead of cheer their players for their rowdy tactics . . . It is the frank opinion of this department that if players of Kossack's type were tossed out of the ball game now and then, sandlot baseball would not only be better attended, but insure the physical safety of players . . . fan . . . and umpire . . . alike.

The Rose-Lo Inn softball team, led by their ace pitcher, Art Luerssen, undefeated through 1936 in ten Arlington Softball League tilts, added five more to their string to walk off with the first half of the current race.

The Whirlpools from Chicago did not whirl fast enough for the home team last Sunday. They started out with a good lead of 4 runs, but after the second inning they only made one more run while it took 8 innings for the home team to tie the score, after which 7 more innings were played, in which Bensenville won 6 to 5.

Present-day baseball players . . . please note . . . that they played a pretty fair brand of ball thirty years ago . . . A total of seven errors by both nines through fifteen low-scoring innings is something to talk about . . . when one considers the scarcity of proper equipment in those days.

If there has been any doubt as to the Northwest Suburban Zone's supremacy in the Northern Illinois district of the Missouri Lutheran Synod, that feeling was spiked Sunday, July 11, when fifteen young men and young women from this zone scored 91 points in the fourth annual field meet at the Lake Shore Athletic grounds in Chicago, leading the rest of the field by 76 points.

This is the Northwest's fourth title in the four years of competition, and they managed to score more points than all of the other eight zones put together. Fox Valley's fifteen points were all scored by the girls entered from that zone. The women took almost all the record breaking honors, setting new marks in the 50 yard dash, the 300 yard relay, and the hop-step-jump, the latter event by more than two feet. All marks in the boys' junior division are new, this section competing separately for the first time. Hinrichs sent his own record to the boards with a 119 foot toss, for the other record.

William Wolter, winner of the West Suburban Junior conference 660 yard run for Maine this spring, captured all individual honors by placing on top in the four junior events he entered.

Threatening weather that turned into a combination dust storm with occasional showers, cut the original entry list considerably, several branches of competition having only one entry. The mile race was run during the height of the wind and dust storm.

COOK COUNTY HERALD
JULY 19, 1907

HELL HOLES IN HANOVER.
Regarding recent disturbances that have occurred at proprietor of Hanover's blind pig, it might be said that there are other houses in this neighborhood that are run in far greater defiance of law and moral order. While it is acknowledged that the blind pig has a bad influence on the immediate neighborhood, those houses on the Chicago road have a far greater sphere of influence; young men scarcely yet in their teens driving as far as ten or fifteen miles to patronize these places.

HANOVER
Well neighbors and friends the auto is bought or anyway ordered and will arrive here by the first of August. Now hereby A. F. Heine and E. G. Ralphs like to let you know to have your sneaks and auto caps and suits ready by that time.

PALATINE
Wm. Filbert of New York was here over Sunday.
Miss Essie Buck visited Miss Bertha Torgler Tuesday.
Miss Margaret Young is home from De Kalb, for the summer.
Mrs. Clapp, of Chicago, was the guest of Miss Jessie Nason, Sunday.

Misses Cora Jahne and Marie Ernst of Barrington spent Sunday with Miss Arps.
Mrs. M. L. Smyser is entertaining her sister from the east.
E. Schreiner has gone to his home at Frankmuth, Mich. Henry Schultz of St. Peter, Ill., is organizing during his vacation.

James Williams, Herman Wase-man and George Vehe went fishing at Lake Zurich, last Friday. No big catches were made but stories were told well.
Rush M. Putnam has had drainage and water placed in his greenhouse and is shipping flowers. Rush understands the business and will enlarge his houses as fast as business warrants.

ROSELLE
Wm. Ewald and Herman Schmidt went to Lake Zurich, Sunday, and caught a fine string of fish.
Miss Emma and Alvina Hatten-dort attended the dance at Lake Zurich, Saturday evening and later went fishing on the lake.

BENSENVILLE
Plattdeutsche Gilde meeting, Saturday night, July 20 at 8 p. m.
H. F. Hornbostel has his new house nearly finished. It will be for rent.
W. F. Duntzman has his new greenhouse up and finished glazing Tuesday.

Fred Elfring and family made a successful trip to Elgin, Sunday, in his auto, no mishaps whatever.
Wm. Ernsting has resumed his duties again with the Corn Exchange Nat. Bank, Chicago, after two weeks vacation.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
Miss Lydia Hausman entertained a few friends in honor of her birthday, July 12.
Albert Popp bought a nice survey of Chas. Peterson who is selling many rigs this year.
Mrs. D. K. Draper is staying with Mrs. Weeks at Des Plaines, during camp meeting.

Mrs. Chas. Hewitt accompanied her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ward to Springfield last Friday to visit friends.
Ed. Scherringhausen now rides in one of the celebrated Staver "Jumbo" Surreys, a substantial, well built rig (said to be the best around the Heights). It will last him for years. It is so well finished, painted and varnished that he can use it for a mirror when he wants to shave. He bought it thru Chas. Peterson, agent for the celebrated Staver Buggies and Carriages at Arlington Heights and vicinity.

Mrs. Geo. Allison is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Dorcas Clough and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. House of Baltimore, Maryland.

The village board at an adjourned session Tuesday granted a franchise to the Chicago and Wisconsin Traction Co. This is the third company that has had like favors and we hope they will build the long promised electric railroad between Chicago and Fox Lake.

MOUNT PROSPECT
Wm. H. Pohlman Jr. are the proud parents of a baby girl, born July 18.
Fred Witt, Paul Rateike and John Greve went out last Sunday night, looking for girls. Girls take your pick.

Nearly everybody has his own precious ideas about what causes automobile accidents. It all depends on the point of view. Some people believe it is the slow drivers, others lay it to the weather, to the car itself. All these factors, and many others contribute to the large toll of accidents. One of the very important causes should be listed as poor equipment.
There is no single cause. For instance, where would you place the blame when a car with bad brakes on a slippery pavement hits a pedestrian whose head is hid behind an umbrella? Since there is no single cause, there can be no single remedy. It requires the combined cooperation of every living soul to do his utmost to prevent accidents.

Maine, Florida Coastline
If small indentations are counted, Maine has more than twice as much coastline as Florida.

'Poller,' Hornless Cattle

Grasshoppers and Army Worms Damage Crops

Our Cook county farmers should check very carefully their grasshopper infestation on alfalfa and army worms in oats, so warns our Farm Advisor O. G. Barrett.

The grasshoppers are small as yet, being only half to three-quarters of an inch long. Their eating will increase with their size for the next six weeks. It is estimated that grasshopper infestation on alfalfa to the extent of 15 per square yard will eat the equivalent of 1 ton of hay per day on forty acres. The second cutting of alfalfa will be less entirely consumed by them, will be ready for cutting soon. Possibly the worst thing that we can do is to cut alfalfa for then there is nothing left except the young shoots and they will strip those shoots as fast as they appear, many cases being known of their killing the crop. The young alfalfa seedlings which are just getting started will suffer probably the most from our infestation.

The case in Cook county is more to be worried about for the reason that it is not severe enough so all of our farmers will enter into the control. One farmer poisoning his crop of grasshoppers is not as effective as we would like to see if none of his neighbors take care of theirs.

In cutting the alfalfa a strip or several strips which will attract the grasshoppers, might be left and in these strips the poison bait can be used. The bait for grasshoppers should be made at the rate of 100 pounds of bran, four pounds of poison, either Paris Green or white arsenic mixed with 2 gallons of unused thin, cheap cylinder oil, same to be mixed thoroughly and spread on the ground at the rate of 10 pounds per acre.

The control of grasshoppers is more or less of a community problem and for this reason the government has appropriated a sum for the purchase of poison and your Farm Advisor, knowing your needs, has on hand for you the poison which costs you only a few cents to pay for the handling and packaging.

Army worms or cut worms in the oats should be given consideration and may easily be poisoned. If the oats are cut, these fellows will march into the adjacent corn or other grain field. They may be poisoned in the same manner as grasshoppers except cheap molasses should be used instead of the oil. The difference, too, is that the grasshopper bait must be spread very early in the morning while the army worm bait must be spread in the evening just a bit before dark.

This poisoning is rather inexpensive and should cost not more than 20 to 25c per acre and in some cases does not need the whole acreage, but only in strips which brings the total cost to a rather negligible amount as compared to the cost of feeding.

We must remember, too, that grasshoppers will be with us and feed for several weeks. This brood of the worms, of course, will not be here long, but can do a lot of damage while they are and therefore in both cases it needs your immediate attention.

Wheeling Days At Public School Grounds

All roads will lead to Wheeling this week-end for the annual Wheeling Day celebration, which will be held on the public school grounds Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evenings, July 24 and 25. Although former Wheeling days were sponsored by community spirited citizens, the celebration this year is marked by material evidence of U. S. spirit in the new school gymnasium, which will be used for the first time this week-end, and for which proceeds of the celebration will be used.

Bring your friends to Wheeling and show them what a "Community Spirit" can do.

Our Health Column

H. O. Meisenheimer, M. D.

Whooping Cough

Dr. H. O. Meisenheimer, M. D. Whooping cough is a contagious disease, prevailing epidemically during the winter and spring months. It is essentially a children's disease, affecting most seriously infants and younger children. During infancy this disease is the cause for more fatalities than any other acute infectious disease. Fully one-half of the cases of whooping cough occur during the first two to three years. Many cases are on record in which it has occurred during the first few months of infancy.

This disease may be divided into three stages—the first stage simulates in all details an ordinary acute bronchitis, with a slight fever and a cough, instead of clearing up in the usual five to seven days, continues and becomes more severe finally terminating in the typical whoop by which this condition gets its name. With the exception of a blood count or other complicated laboratory procedures, there is no way of distinguishing the first stage of whooping cough from an ordinary cold. It is during this first stage that the greatest period of infectivity exists, so that before the condition has even been suspected of being whooping cough, the patient has been spreading the disease to others with whom he comes in contact. This first stage usually lasts about seven to ten days. The second stage is initiated by the severe coughing spells. These spells are usually more frequent during the night and any number from a few to an almost continuous recurrence in a twenty-four hour period. Between the coughing spells the victim is in relative comfort, and may play about as any other child might do. Because this cough is of a prolonged type, it is not uncommon for the child to become quite blue and gasp for air, and often the spell is terminated by vomiting. This stage will last about four to six weeks, gradually changing over into the third stage in which the patient has a chronic cough of a usually mild degree, which will last for an indefinite period of time. With the advent of summer and the child is permitted to play in the sun, the chronic cough will finally disappear.

Treatment of whooping cough resolves itself into making the patient as comfortable as possible, since once the disease process has started, only time will cure the condition. At present, the use of different vaccines have been of some value in diminishing the severe coughing spells. More important and more successful than treatment is that of preventing whooping cough. Various vaccines have been used during the past 15 to 20 years for whooping cough. None have given as satisfactory results as the vaccine developed by Dr. Sauer at the Northwestern University. During the past five years it has found increasing favor in the medical profession, because of the many excellent results obtained with its use. In the hands of some men this vaccine has afforded complete protection for 80% of their patients. Those persons developing whooping cough after immunization were reported to have very mild cases.

Immunization for whooping cough requires three weekly injections. Since a period of three to four months elapses before complete immunity is developed from these injections, it is thought best to start the preventative treatment during the infant's fifth or sixth month.

Buck Shot Scares Young Autoists

Four youths were surprised to be the target for a shot gun while they were driving near the farm of Otto Kurth on Sanders road near Dundee road Saturday afternoon. August Dreyer, 17, Henry Dreyer, 15, Henry Tipperietta, 15, and Robert Weilbocker, 16, were fired upon while riding in their Ford sedan.

Carl Oplund, 50, was arraigned before Judge Forberg, Wednesday afternoon, on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The shot had punctured holes in the windshield and the door of the car. Oplund claimed that the boys were trespassing on his property looking for golf balls and he did it to scare them.

The case against Oplund was continued one week.

County Lets Thistles Grow

While the farmers of Palatine township have been making strenuous efforts to obey the law and get their Canada thistles cut on time, the forest preserve district is letting a fine crop of them ripen and get ready to blow all over the farmer's fields from the Deer Grove forest preserve, according to thistle commissioner, John Kitson.

Mr. Kitson says that the farmers have shown a fine spirit of cooperation and that the state is doing a good job in cutting the weeds and thistles along the state highways, but that the county is letting a fine crop ripen in the forest preserve.

Mr. Kitson says that it is very discouraging to the farmers to work hard to keep their fields free from the pesky thistles and then have the county do nothing and then the whole community.

How can the county expect any law observance by the people in the rural communities when they themselves are the greatest violators in the whole bunch?

Well, anyhow, Sheriff Toman has awakened to the fact that there are slot machines in Cook county. Now maybe the county board will wake up to the fact that there are ripe thistles in the Deer Grove forest preserve.
